Trilennium™
1100 Series
Construction
Hardware

This Construction Hardware is designed specifically to be used with the W & F Trilennium™ multi-point locking system. It saves the finish handle sets from damage and acts as a paint shield during the construction phase. Although not intended as a security device, the Construction Hardware prevents direct access to the locking mechanism from the exterior. It's sturdy all metal construction also makes it reusable for multiple phases or different job sites.
